

Model Agency Showcase FAQ

I live out of state. Can I still participate?

Yes. This will be a virtual event so all participants are welcome to join upon approval.

Is this a Modeling Agency?

No, currently we offer education and creative services. We will be launching a Mother Agency in the near future.

What will I need to wear?

We recommend that you wear Model Basics.

Model Basics: black, white, or nude colored tank top or T-shirt. Black pants, leggings, or denim jeans. Hair: should naturally fall or be pulled back out of your face to show off your features. Minimal makeup as shown here.

This dress code pertains to all genders.

What will I need to prepare for the showcase?

We ask that you join us for Tech Check on January 5th. Please schedule your Tech Check here <https://calendly.com/info-28325/tech-checks>. During this time we will help you prepare for the showcase.

You will need: a phone, tripod, ample lighting, internet connection and a quiet space.

If I don't get signed, how is this showcase beneficial for me?

You can't make shots you don't take. While this event does not guarantee you agency placement it does give you a once in a lifetime opportunity to connect with 20+ reputable agents over the course of two days.

Fashion Show (Fashion Week Event) FAQ

Is this a Modeling Agency?

No, currently we offer education and creative services. We will be launching a Mother Agency in the near future.

What is a Mother Agency?

Normally, a mother agency is the first agency you begin working with when you start your modeling career. A mother agent can also be a scout that discovered you and helped you get your start. A mother agency will help you learn the industry and start building your modeling portfolio or "book."

Do you find work for models?

We try (but no guarantees) oftentimes brands and designers will come to us to book models. Naturally we submit models from our shows and shoots to any casting calls that come our way.

How do I know if I've been accepted?

We will notify you via email or text on the status of your application.

Do I get runway photos?

Yes.

How do I sell tickets?

Once you've been accepted we'll provide you with a ticket link.

Here is a step by step video demo on how to use a Ticket Code:
